

Maggie, the mother of two, woke up to a marvelous morning. She was met by her munchkins who had made her a magical breakfast. She had muffins, milk and mangoes. Afterward, they played monopoly and had a marvellous time. Maggie thanked her lucky stars for such lovely children. She hugged them, telling them how much she loves them.