

The International Space Station is a giant laboratory that orbits

Earth. It is a place where astronauts from all over the world live and work together for months at a time.