

Science is not just for scientists – anyone can be a scientist! By encouraging children to explore and experiment, we can help them develop their own curiosity and love of learning. Who knows – they may even discover something amazing!