

Vehicles play an important role in our daily lives.

They help us get from one place to another, transport goods and services, and even perform important jobs like fighting fires or delivering mail.