

Did you know that there were so many different types of dinosaurs that it's hard to count them all?

Some were fierce predators with razor-sharp teeth and claws, while others were gentle giants that spent their days grazing on plants. Some had long necks and tails, while others had spikes and horns. With so much variety, there's sure to be a dinosaur that captures your imagination!